To whom it may concern,

It is with enthusiasm that I am writing to recommend Atticus Graybill for the position of Photo/ Video Producer. As Creative Director at Virtually Better, I collaborated with Atticus for 15 years in incorporating video and photo content into virtual reality environments, games, and educational modules.

As producer/director, Atticus excelled in putting together a video/photography production team and was responsible for photography, video, sound, cast, stylist, pre production, post production, as well as securing studio and set design for filming in the studio, on green screen or on location. As part of his duties, Atticus also managed video/photography production budgets, account services and delivery.

Atticus has proven to have exceptional skills evaluating client criteria and problem solving every aspect of production. He always kept the budget in mind, while at the same time, successfully delivering outstanding work. In addition, Atticus has excellent social skills in working with clients and collaborating with colleagues and staff. The passion and energy that he brings to his work is contagious and an asset to every project.

Working with Atticus made my job as Creative Director at Virtually Better a pleasure, and I highly recommend him to be part of your team.

Best,
